please see that Craig receives these new pictures from tonight.

Craig I did adjust the threshold and still water continues to come into our foyer. I did notice when it started to rain that all of the water started coming in on the right side of the door, basically dripping from above the weather stripping almost towards the side of the door.. From the other foyer pictures you can tell the middle of under the door starts to fill then also and water seems to be coming from under the white trim...

See all of the pictures and we also need to discuss our cracking grout and now we have white water marks all over the grout.

Please confirm these have been received as well as the pictures I resent today...

You have been sent 12 pictures.
